Supplemental Information

ARR for a given period is the annualized revenue of active contracts. ARR does not have any standardized definition and is therefore unlikely to be comparable to similarly titled measures presented by other companies. ARR should be viewed independently of revenue and deferred revenue and is not intended to be combined with or to replace either of those items. ARR is not a forecast and the active contracts at the end of a reporting period used in calculating ARR may or may not be extended or renewed by our customers.

Non-GAAP Information

This press release includes certain non-GAAP financial measures, including organic revenue growth, non-GAAP EPS, non-GAAP EBITDA and ROIC.

Nasdaq and Verafin believe that these non-GAAP measures provide useful information to management and investors regarding certain financial and business trends relating to Verafin’s financial condition and results of operations. Nasdaq’s and Verafin’s managements use certain of these non-GAAP measures to compare Nasdaq’s and Verafin’s performance to that of prior periods for trend analyses and for budgeting and planning purposes. Nasdaq and Verafin believe presentation of these measures provides investors with greater transparency and supplemental data relating to financial condition and results of operations.

Nasdaq’s organic growth calculation methodology normally excludes acquired businesses from the measure until they have been part of Nasdaq for a full 12-month period. For purposes of providing the pro-forma impact of the Verafin acquisition, Verafin’s forecasted results are included and the impact of purchase accounting write-down on deferred revenue is excluded in these measures.

These measures are not in accordance with, or an alternative to, U.S. GAAP, and may be different from non-GAAP measures used by other companies. In addition, other companies, including companies in our industry, may calculate such measures differently, which reduces its usefulness as a comparative measure. Investors should not rely on any single financial measure when evaluating these businesses. This information should be considered as supplemental in nature and is not meant as a substitute for operating results in accordance with U.S. GAAP.

A reconciliation of non-GAAP forward looking information to their corresponding GAAP measures cannot be provided without unreasonable efforts due to the inherent difficulty in quantifying certain amounts due to a variety of factors, including the unpredictability in the movement in foreign currency rates, Nasdaq’s effective tax rate as well as future charges or reversals outside of the normal course of business.
